Curso: Mestrado em Análise Financeira

Área/ Subárea: Ciências da Informação e da Comunicação / Línguas

Semestre: 1.º

Carga horária: 1,5 h

ECTS: 3

2.

The principal aim is to prepare students to use English in professional contexts related to financial analysis. This course will contribute to developing the four main linguistic skills – reading, listening, speaking and writing – at an upper-intermediate level.

3.

The contents of the course are organised around the following major topics: money, banks, operating an account, money and work, currency markets, corporate finance, mergers and acquisitions, investments, banking and financial problems, numbers and statistics, phrasal verbs for banking and finance, financial idioms and expressions, graph reading, meetings and presentations.

In addition, several grammar topics will be revised throughout the course.
